

My Goodness My Guinness!
Art Treasures of London's Kenwood House:
A Special Exhibition Preview Lecture

In Fall 2012, the Milwaukee Art Museum hosts a special exhibition of works from the world-famous collection of Kenwood House, London. These works, which were part of the magnificent Iveagh Bequest, include those by Rembrandt, Van Dyck, and Gainsborough, among others. Art historian Jeff Mishur will discuss the significance of the collection at Kenwood House as it was amassed by Edward Cecil Guinness, 1st Earl of Iveagh and heir to the world's most successful brewery. She will discuss various works by Old Masters that are in the collection, taking the group on an armchair tour of a venue that is on every art lover's itinerary when visiting London.

Mishur is owner of Art Excursions, a company that has provided private guiding, lectures, and tours to outstanding American art collections for 14 years.
